THE PREMATURE

DECAY OF YOUTH.

JUST PUBLISHED BY DR. STONE,

PHYSICIAN to the Troy Lung and Hygeinic Institute a treatise on the early decay of American Youth; the vice of Self-Abuse and its direful consequences; Seminal Weakness and other diseases of the Sexual Organs in both male and female.

The above work has received the highest commendation from several leading papers of the Union as one of the most able ever published on this subject of such vital interest. It is for gratuitous circulation, and it will be sent by mail in a sealed envelop to any part of the country, on receipt of two stamps for postage.

A Word of Solomn Conscientious Advice to those who will Reflect.

It is a solemn fact that 13,000 die annually in the United States with consumption, marasmus, or premature decay. There cannot be an effect without an adequate cause. In the vast majority of cases of human life and health, by marasmus or premature exhaustion and decay of the nervous system—nervous debility, caused by sexual diseases, such as the vice of Self-Abuse, Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhœa, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Impotence, Leucorrhœa, Virulent private diseases, both male and female, and Sterility, and organic disease of the kidneys, and in view of the deceptions which are practised upon the unfortunate victims of such diseases by quacks and base pretenders, the Directors of the Troy Lung and Hygeinic Institute have instructed their attending physician to give medical advice, gratis, to all patients thus afflicted, male or female, who may apply by letter or personally, with a description of their case, as to a true and faithful diagnosis of the disease, the institution proposes to treat the unfortunate, and in cases of extreme poverty and suffering, for a sum that will only compensate the cost of medicines.

☞ The most reliable and infallible advice will at all times be given by the physician of the Institution, both to Male and Female, respecting the diseases of the sexual organs. Medicines and treatment will be sent by mail or express to all parts of the United States and the Institution will guarantee the success of treatment.

☞ The attending physician will be found at the Institution for consultation, from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M. of each day, Sundays, in the forenoon.

MANHOOD.

How Lost, How Restored.

A LECTURE ON THE NATURE, TREATMENT, AND RADICAL CURE OF SPERMATORRHŒA, or Seminal Weakness, Sexual Debility, Nervousness, and Involuntary Discharges, Impotency, Consumption, and Mental and Physical Debility.

BY DR. ROB. J. CURTEIS, M. D.

The important fact that the awful consequences of self-abuse may be effectually removed without internal medicines or the dangerous application of caustics, instruments, moist and bougies, and other empirical devices, is here clearly demonstrated, and the startling but highly successful treatment, as adopted by the celebrated author fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure himself perfectly, and at the least possible cost, thus avoiding the usual exposures and humiliations of the day. This Lecture will prove one to thousands and thousands.

Sent under seal to any address, post paid, on the receipt of two 3 cent postage stamps, by addressing Dr. CURTEIS, M. D., 481 Broadway, New York. Post paid, 6 cents equal to any Powder that we have ever used.

Cincinnati Venereal Hospital,

Established in the year 1830,

FOR THE CURE OF PRIVATE DISEASES.

Under the control of two of the most eminent Physicians in the city.

DR. E. BONAPARTE, from London and Paris Hospitals, and late Physician to the Troy Lung and Hygeinic Institute, and DR. R. Reynolds, late of New York. This is the only office in the city where a personal cure of private diseases can be obtained without the use of mercury or chance of diet. Gonorrhœa cured in 6 to 48 hours. Gleet cured in 1 to 3 weeks. Stricture cured in 1 to 3 weeks. Nocturnal emissions stopped in 1 to 3 days. Seminal weakness cured in 2 to 4 weeks. Syphilis in its primary stages cured in 2 days. Secondary symptoms of disease cured in 1 to 4 weeks. Impotency restored in 1 to 4 weeks. All diseases of a private nature treated with unparalleled success, male or female.

Dr. Bonaparte's great work on private diseases, the private guide to health, to be read by all male and female, is the old and young should read this book. It will enlighten those who require advice. Price 25 cents, sent by mail.

Dr. Bonaparte's Celebrated Preventive never has nor never will fail married ladies to forbid to bear children, except at the hazard of their lives. Sent by mail on receipt of price, $5. Dr. Bonaparte's Periodical Pills are a positive relief; safe, and never fail to give satisfaction. It is the only safe and sure preventive against pregnancy and disease. The price of the Periodical Pills, which are kept in the single one, $4 per box dozen, $9 per dozen. Sent by mail.

The Madame Leider's Female Monthly Pills are a safe and reliable remedy for suppression from any cause. Ladies should not use them during pregnancy, as they will produce miscarriage. Price $1 per box—extra fine $3—sent to any address by mail.

Dr. B. E. at the same time would inform the many persons formerly acknowledged to be the champion and king of venereal diseases, and the only Doctors who receive Monthly Reports from the whole world; that he can be sustained from an early age of youth to witness the various diseases which afflict mankind, and to watch their progress, through a long career of professional study, in every opinion of life, from the infant to the aged, and also to the mansions of the wealthy, and having ascertained beyond a doubt the real suffering of humanity, they determined to select the remedies or system as their particular study, and by close application and study to alleviate all the diseases of these important functions. No letters will be answered unless they contain a result taken or a postage stamp.

WATCHES AND JEWELRY.

HAVING opened an entirely new assortment of WATCHES AND JEWELRY, I would respectfully call the attention of my numerous friends, also the city and country generally, to an examination of a rich and beautiful selection of goods, which I have just purchased in hand—my stock being perfectly new and fresh and of the latest fashions—which I propose to dispose of at such prices as will be sure to reason the excellence of style and quality of my goods than heretofore offered. My stock consists in part of elite and country dealers' demands, and also kindly request them to call and examine before making purchase elsewhere. Having had 10 years' experience in the Watch and Jewelry business, I am enabled to offer inducements and give full satisfaction. All goods warranted as represented. Orders entrusted to me care will receive such attention as to merit a liberal satisfaction.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 5, 1860.

☞ We lay before our readers this morning a manifesto adopted recently by the people of the county of Hardin assembled in a Union Meeting. The paper, which is one of marked ability and thoroughness, is understood to be from the hand of that distinguished son of Hardin, Gov. Helm. Though long it deserves and will repay most richly a patient and thoughtful perusal.

It is a habit of the leading submission papers in the South to speak of the election of Lincoln as the only cause of the "disunion" movement, and, they argue, that as his election is in the mode prescribed by the Constitution, submission is a duty, and should be advised and acquiesced in by all good citizens.—Lou. Courier.

It is the habit of the leading erawfish papers in the South to speak of their adversaries in this way, we know, but, so far as we are aware, the habit is without the slightest justification in fact. Certainly we ourselves have never spoken of "the election of Lincoln as the only cause of the 'disunion' movement." On the contrary, we have never admitted that "the election of Lincoln" is even one of the causes of "the disunion" movement"; we have steadily denied that it is anything but a pretext. We beg our neighbor to set us right.

Whenever we have treated this subject at all deliberately we have taken the precaution to state the causes of the Disunion movement in the language of the men who projected the movement and who are carrying it out. We have shown from the most authentic sources that the causes of the movement are, 1, The existence of the law of 1807, declaring the African slave trade to be illegal; 2, The existence of the laws of 1819 and 1820, declaring the foreign slave trade to be piracy, and directing our ships of war to seize and bring into port all vessels of the United States engaged in the trade; 3, The existence of the law of 1850, abolishing the slave trade in the District of Columbia, one of the constituent measures of the Compromise of 1850; 4, The assumed or anticipated omission of the Federal Government to grant full and adequate protection to slavery wherever it shall exist under the flag of the Union. These are the causes of the Disunion movement as set forth by the Disunion orators themselves, and we, at least, have not connected "a habit" of speaking of anything else as "the only cause" of the movement. We have kept our eye too closely on these gentlemen for that. We again beg our neighbor of the Courier to set us right.

And whilst the Courier is doing this piece of justice, if it shall think fit to do it, may we not also ask it to tell its readers whether or not it deems the causes of the Disunion movement as announced by the Disunion chiefs sufficient causes, and whether or not it is prepared to insist upon or even to recommend the removal of these causes in a body as the only true remedial measure adapted to the case? If the Courier doesn't consider the causes sufficient, and is not ready to remove them as a whole, we shall be under the painful necessity of informing the Courier that after all it is itself, like everything it has said in behalf of the men who first put forth these causes, a very poor apology for a Disunionist.

☞ Forming cabinets, upon which the Executive of this Union is to rely for advice and assistance in carrying out the diversified operations of his official duties, is a subject requiring great care, tact, and circumspection. Gen. Jackson in his advice to Monroe, said that in the formation of his cabinet, "the should consider himself the head of a nation not of a party; that he should have around him the best talents the country could afford, without regard to the sectional divisions; and should in his selection, seek after men of probity, virtuo, capacity, and firmness; and in this way he would go far to eradicate those feelings which on former occasions threw so many obstacles in the way of government, and so enabled, perhaps, to unite the people heretofore politically divided." These are valuable suggestions, and we hope tho new Republican President will see proper to act upon them.

COLLECTING NORTH CAROLINA CLAIMS.—The bar of Lowndes county, Alabama, met at Hayneville on the 14th, and passed the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we will not in future collect or receive for collection any claim in favor of any merchant, or other citizen of any non-slaveholding State, against any non-slaveholding State, against any citizen of this State; and that we will use our influence to prevent such collections by others, as far as we properly can.

The reader will see that the members of the Lowndes county Bar will refuse to collect any claim of a citizen of a non-slaveholding State against a citizen of Alabama, no matter what the political position of the creditor may be—no matter though he may have done everything in his power against the Republican cause. It is well. If such a rascally set of lawyers were to collect claims in behalf of Northern creditors or any other creditors, ten to one they would steal the money.

The once proud and powerful Democratic party lies prostrate before anti-slavery fanaticism. How has it been humiliated! How has it been smitting the premise of the anti-slav ryites that the negro, except in the color of his skin, is a man and entitled to a white man's rights. For a quarter of a century this doctrine has been currently taught, in the schools, newspapers, pulpits, &c., of the North, until our people now vote in favor of it, and don't like to be reminded of reducing the doctrino.—Atlanta (Ga.) Confederacy.

The Atlanta editor makes an erroneous statement. It is not true that Mr. Lincoln endorses or has ut any time endorsed the doctrine that "the negro, except in the color of his skin, is a white man and entitled to a white man's rights." An editor, who, from design or carelessness, makes an nutrito statement calculated to mislead and exasperate any section of the country, is a mischief-maker.

☞ Seventy odd mercantile and business firms of Columbus, Ga., have issued the following card:

The undersigned merchants of Columbus, amid the discord and confusion that pre vails in the public mind—politically and commercially—beg leave to express our adherence to those principles by which alone such confusion can be shock. Hence we are utterly opposed to anything like slay laws, or any measures having for their object any release from, or abatement of our obligations as merchants at home or abroad. Such a step would destroy all confidence at home and annul all confidence at home. We must have good laws, and as sound a currency as our neighbors, and we will trust to a common sympathy for all else we need.

This movement is a very creditable one, and is a severe rebuke to that class of agitators who wish to repudiate debts in the South. No community, demoralized in its business standing, can expect the sympathy of honest men, and all pretenses which may gloss over the attempted wrong will be exposed.

☞ "Occasional," the Washington correspondent of Forney's Press, after rending Caleb Cushing's recent speech, says he felt, "while thinking of the difference between Webster and Cushing, as Byron felt when, in Childe Harold, he exclaimed

Oh, for an hour of Webster in Massachusetts or Clay in Kentucky, or that noble McDowell, of Virginia, who, in 1850, thrilled the hearts of his countrymen with his magnificent appeal at the moment when it was supposed that the Union was trembling (owing to the fanaticism of the hour) upon the precipice of annihilation."

☞ The Washington Constitution, after having shown itself so unfit to defend the principles of the Constitution of Washington and his compeers, has received the cold shoulder from the President and the Cabinet. If the old organ could find any depth of degradation which it did not dig for itself, this last indignity would be the very profundity of humiliation.

☞ Since they left off keeping step to the music of the Union in South Carolina they interdict our national airs altogether and the French revolutionary songs take their place. The introduction of the guillotine and the lamp-post would complete the picture.

☞ Every Episcopal Clergyman in Charleston has omitted the usual prayer for the President of the United States. That "old public functionary" has been past praying for this long while.

☞ Any Southern State, that shall permit itself to be frightened out of the Union by the apprehension of what Black Republicanism may do, will show itself to be unmanly, cowardly, and base.

☞ If South Carolina does secede, recede, draw back, back down, back out from the Union, we hope she will have the grace to display a huge crawfish on her coat of arms.

[For the Louisville Journal.]

The people of Hardin county, assembled to consider the dangers which threaten the Union of the States, deem it proper to express their opinions touching the subjects which have given rise to the disturbances which now agitate the public mind.

Devoted as they are to the Union they do not think sufficient causes exist to justify its dismemberment, nor do they think, as far as the causes which underlie this movement have been made known to them, there are any which may not be remedied in the Union. It was a task allotted to noble minds and patriotic hearts to establish this government. Those who seek its dismemberment and dissolution ought to test their consciences, and in the sight of heaven feel an abiding conviction that there exists well-founded reasons, and that all peaceful and constitutional remedies, on full and fair trial, have proved unavailing; that they may go before the people and the civilized and enlightened world, bring armed the justice of their cause. 'Tis hard to build up, 'tis easy to pull down, a government of law and order. Those who seek to change a government which has passed the ordeal of public opinion, and has stood the storm of party strife and the conflict of opinion, and of which the prominent points for disputation are settled, ought to be satisfied that they can bring to bear as much intelligent and disinterested patriotism in the creation of a new as is distinctly impressed in the old government, and be satisfied that their will do much. And the cause of freedom at least as much good as harm.

Among the prominent causes which disturb the public mind is the occupancy of and the measure of protection which shall be given to slave property in the Territories. That the public domain is the common property of all the people in the several States as a proposition not liable for dispute. It follows as a necessary consequence that all the people have the right to occupy that which is common to all, and are entitled to the lawful protection of persons and property. The people of the South insist that Congress is clothed with the power, and it is its duty to afford that protection to slave as well as other property. The Northern people readily concede the existence of the power and the duty to execute it, but insist its exercise shall be to exclude slavery from the Territories.

The wisest men of our Government, with a view to take this distracting question from the halls of Congress, effected a compromise of conflicting opinions in 1850, and in 54 re-affirmed it. The people were left to decide the question of slavery for themselves. The disputed question as to the power of the people of a territory to settle the question of slavery by adoption or rejection was conceded to be a judicial question, and properly submitted to its adjustment by the Supreme Court of the United States. That was a peaceable, lawful, and constitutional adjustment. The people North and the South and North agreed to abide it, and all still profess a willingness to abide it. The honor of both sections is involved in standing by the compromise. Why then do we make new disputo about this question? Strange to say a nation of wisemen is convulsed to some extent as to whether the question has or has not been settled. If it has been judicially settled that is an end of it, and it ought not again to have been made a political question until it was officially made known that the court were not willing to fully and faithfully enforce its judgments. That being done, and the Legislative or Executive department of the government failing to sustain with adequate powers the judicial department, and the people indifferent to the result, fail to provide adequate remedy or power, the Government, for want of moral and physical power, would fail to accomplish the purposes of its creation. Those Southern people whose rights could not be protected would have a just cause of complaint against their oppressor for neglecting to hold together and to perpetuate the freest, wisest, and best government in the world. Let Northern men who are still willing to live with you in social and friendly political relations. They are willing to deal with you and stand side by side with you in battle on the battle field under the ample folds of the flag of a common country. But they insist this shall be done on terms of perfect equality. They ask nothing of you but what they will most cheerfully grant. They insist upon a rigid adherence to the Constitution in all its parts, and a strict enforcement of the laws. Kentuckians ought to be loyal to the Union in all its dignities manhood. Do not rely too much on their forbearance. That forbearance which has continued us neighbors may cease to be a virtue. When that fraternal feeling which binds and has bound us together as brothers of the same country shall be ruthlessly severed, Kentuckians will prove themselves vassals equal to all the direful consequences which may follow. The non-slave holding States, at least the Republican party, insist that the normal condition of all territory is freedom from slavery, and that slavery is merely a force, when fairly brought into action, sufficient to carry into effect their Territorial policy, and appropriate the public lands to the use of themselves and children. In the name of justice, should not that be enough to satisfy them? Why seek to disturb the peace of our firesid s and covet our homes?

The election of Abraham Lincoln by a purely sectional vote has given new impetus to many causes of complaint, and seems to fill the Southern mind with anticipated danger. That was the result of a legal, constitutional, and quiet election. That the majority shall rule is a fundamental principle which underlies our free government. We would not have it otherwise if we could. However much we may deplore it as resulting to disturb the public mind, because it was the act of one section, it is no fault in the structure of the government, nor is it attributable to any citizen of said misconduct of Republicanism. Shall we undertake to put down a large part of the blame? We did know it would require the united vote of all opposed to his election to defeat him. We all professed that his defeat was our chief aim. We professed to believe his election would produce the crisis at hand. We professed a devoted attachment to the Union; that we were ready to die for it; and yet we started three candidates, divided our forces, weakened the opposition, and none were found patriotic enough to sacrifice or abandon their party leaders. Shall the government be blamed for this? Shall we dismember it and strike a fatal blow at liberty because our own love of party ties and association overcame our patriotism? We see by the result that if the public opinion had been collected in the detailed manner prescribed in the election of members of Congress the result would have been different. We see that the majority of the people voted against him. We know the next Congress will be composed of members whose opinions are hostile to his views, and that the decision of the Supreme Court on the Territorial question guarantees our rights. If the Court is sustained by the Legislative and Executive Departments we have nothing to fear, Abraham Lincoln, as President, is then powerless for harm to the South and to Southern institutions, if the South will but be united, and stand as honor and fidelity bids them to do, to their rights and to their country. Give to the President elect a cautious and wary but constitutional support, sustain the honor and credit of the Government, and endured by the people of the States, and before a united people it is powerless to do harm, or the people would be wanting in honor or fid lity to their interest, and make proclamation of a purpose to throw off their allegiance to the government and establish for themselves a separate form of government. Such acts our fathers called revolution, and, relying on the God of battles, pledged their sacred honors, fortunes, and lives to maintain their cause.

Here the revolting party take upon themselves and have the right to determine the sufficiency of the cause. They are to judge of it at an indefinite right of man. The question then arises what duties devolve on the Government from which the revolt is made. In the minds of many such act is treason. To undertake to subject the citizens of a whole State, or States, to the penalties of treason would be revolting to our instincts and shock humanity. The effort could not fail to end in a bloody conflict of arms in which one party would be vanquished, and the other the victors—citizens doing battle under guilty of one and against the other may be placed where they could not escape the penalty of treason to one or the other without the intent to commit a crime. But the Government from which the revolt was made would have the same right to determine what steps were necessary to its own security and self protection arising from the revolt. That must, of course, be determined by the circumstances by which the Government is surrounded. The government of the United States was created among other purposes for that of concentrating a physical force sufficient to resist outside pressure, or to guard against external disturbance, and to secure internal tranquility. But so far as the people who compose it are concerned, it is one of will and forces sufficient for self protection. But when it shall become necessary to apply such force and coercion of the will of the people of States as leads to bloodshed, it is a practical dissolution of the Government. This Union, it is the spirit and for the purpose it was made, can not be held together by the sword.

Looking then to the causes which underlie the present excited feeling of the people of the South ern States, the "irrepressible conflict" and the proclamation that "sooner or later all must be freedom or slavery," the incontrovertible and undisputed theory that the Union cannot exist half slave and half free, the duty to controling the actions of men. A blow struck at a Southern State by the application of military force, cannot fail to be considered a signal for a general conflict of arms. But if it shall be insisted that the perpetuity of the Government depends on the exercise of force to destroy the people of several of the States, the existence to or the non-execution of Federal laws or authority shall be made the cause of test, justice and fair play, and the employment of an army and navy South one of equal force and efficiency for the purpose shall start North; and if discrimination shall be made as to time, the beginning should be with those who are now out, and look forward to a peaceful separation, the greater the physical and moral force united with extended power the more likely to prevent bloodshed. By a union of all the Slave States you have a nation sufficient in strength to insure domestic tranquility, and command the respect of other nations and secure your clear constitutional rights. You are but the rim of a mighty nation. You may be attacked in front and in rear, and your coast broken. You must not rely on the prospect of help from the Border States to keep you to their allegiance to the General Government, and by a union form a government suited to their own wishes, and that the Middle States will be forced for self-protection, and to prevent dissolution and voices in the form of that government, to adopt it. Do not rely too much on the sympathy and the strong arm of England. Such reliance would draw down upon you the suspicion of all the interior States, and rely on it, come what may, it will never consent that a crowned head shall get foothold on American soil.

Great Britain may sympathize with you to disrupt a nation of the States, to command your cotton, and to secure you as free trade customers, of slaves. Wu appeal to the conservative and Union-loving men of the free States to lend the power of their moral influence to enforce the laws of the government. May we not, in the names of the living and the dead warriors of Kentucky, ask the people of the Northwest, who it was that did not stop to inquire for geographical boundaries but rushed to the rescue of the pioneer settlers of their fair country and gave them security in their firesides? Let Kentuckians ever still willing to live with you in social and friendly political relations. They are willing to deal with you and stand side by side with you in battle on the battle field under the ample folds of the flag of a common country. But they insist this shall be done on terms of perfect equality. They ask nothing of you but what they will most cheerfully grant. They insist upon a rigid adherence to the Constitution in all its parts, and a strict enforcement of the laws. Kentuckians ought to be loyal to the Union in all its dignities manhood. THE RESULT IN VIRGINIA.—The highest Bell elector received 74,304 votes, and the lowest 72,186. The highest Breckinridge elector received 74,180 votes and the lowest 70,980. There are four Bell electors who run 74,304 votes, and four Breckinridge electors who have 71,119, and these figures are the fair estimate of the relative strength of the parties in the State, as the difference in the votes is due almost entirely to mistakes made in spelling names on written tickets where printed ones were not prepared.

OFFICIAL VOTE OF KENTUCKY.—The Frankfort Yeoman publishes the certificate of the Governor, Secretary of State, and Attorney General, announcing the result of the Presidential election. The leading elector at large on each ticket stood as follows: Bell and Everett 66,053, Breckinridge and Lane 53,-113, Douglas and Johnson 1,25,651, Lincoln and Hamlin 1,361.

FATALLY STABBED.—An affray, which terminated most unfortunately, occurred at the corner of Floyd and Market streets late yesterday afternoon, between two old citizens. It appears that some misunderstanding occurred on the sidewalk at the northeast corner of the two streets between Squire Lochery, a well known plasterer, who resides on Eighth street, and Jas. T. Brown, the pilot, who resided on Clay street, between Jefferson and Green. Mr. Lochery, it is said, retreated into the grocery immediately on the corner, and was followed by Mr. Brown, the latter assaulting Mr. L. with a weight from the scales. The two then clinched, and in the struggle Mr. Lochery withdrew his pocket knife and stabbed Mr. Brown to the heart, causing his death in a very few minutes after the wound was inflicted. Officer Kirby soon arrived, and took Lochery in custody, and is now in jail awaiting an examination. Capt. Megeven, the sheriff, held an inquest upon the body of the deceased, the jury rendering a verdict in accordance with these facts. The affair is greatly to be deplored, as both parties had many friends and were highly esteemed. The deceased leaves a wife and child, and Mr. Lochery also leaves a family.

THEATRE.—Mr. Florence made a great hit last night as Capt. Cuttle in Dombey and Son. His performance, without being an imitation of Mr. Burton, is highly spiced with the comic humor of that wonderful actor, and is so interspersed with original strokes of fun, that it forms one of the finest pieces of acting we have lately seen. Dombey will bear repetition, for Mrs. Florence's Susan Nipper is glorious in its vigor, while Mr. Alsmore as Dombey, Mrs. Elmore as Mrs. Skewton, Miss Rainforth as Edith, Mr. Smith as Toots, and Miss Ruth as Florence were all excellent. To-night the new drama of Cruikshank Lawn and Thrice Married, with a dance by the favorite Jenny Blight, form a very excellent bill, and, as the engagement of the Florences is drawing to a close, we expect still larger audiences than they have already drawn.

DAVID CAUTION IN COURT.—We gave the particulars yesterday of a diabolical outrage perpetrated upon Catherine Swanson, by one Causey, a notorious negro named David Caution. The accused was examined before the Police Court yesterday, and recommitted to jail for final trial. If Caution should be convicted, the penalty of his crime will be death. The remainder of the party connected with the affair, Charles and Daniel Myers, and Joseph Lewis, free negroes, are in custody awaiting examination. The fellow Caution, who is the property of Mr. Samuels, of Bullitt county, belongs, it is said, to the same family of negroes who figured in the most tragedy in 1857, and who were hanged in the court yard in this city by a mob.

DAMAGES AWARDED.—We stated a few days ago that Mr. Riley Wilson, a lottery ticket vendor, near the corner of Jefferson and Larson streets, had sued the Louisville and Frankfort Railroad Company for damages in the sum of four dollars and fifty cents, in Justice Doane's court. Wilson set forth that his customers were in many instances back-drivers, and that, through fear of having their horses frightened by the trains, they were deterred from visiting his office, subjecting him to a falling off in the sale of tickets and consequent loss. Esq. Doane held the case under advisement a few days and finally rendered a decision in favor of the plaintiff, awarding the damage assessed.

THE WRIT OF PROHIBITION.—We stated yesterday that his honor, Judge Muir, had issued a writ of prohibition against the Court Martial which assembled in this city on Monday to try the case of Maj. Wm. E. Woodruff. The opposing counsel appeared before Judge Muir yesterday and commenced their arguments upon the merits of the writ. Judge Bolley stated the case briefly on the part of the State Guard, and was followed by E. S. Worthington, Esq., for the plaintiff. Mr. Worthington will conclude his speech to-day, whereupon Col. Ben. Hardin Helm will speak on the part of the State Guard, Capt. L. H. Rousseau summing up for Maj. Woodruff.

NEW MESSENGER.—The public is interested in all things connected with the Adams Express Company, and it is for the public's information that we announce the connection of Mr. John L. Overmyer with that institution. Mr. O. is the regular messenger on the Louisville, New Albany, & Chicago Railroad between this city and Greencastle, and the patrons of the Express will find him prompt, reliable, and accommodating. We speak with a knowledge of Mr. Overmyer's merits, as he has been connected with the Journal office for several years.

LAST APPEARANCE OF THE CAMPBELLS.—The Campbell Minstrels will give their last entertainment in this city at Masonic Temple this evening, on which occasion they present an entirely original programme. During their engagement here they have fully sustained the good esteem in which they were held before their arrival, and have made many new and lasting admirers. Our citizens will part with them with regret, and, if we do not mistake the public taste, will give them a bumper at parting.

A LUCKY DRAW.—We are informed that a young man named Wm. Custer, who is employed by Mr. Upton on as a deck-barkeeper on board the steamer B. J. Adams, drew the sum of $22,585 in the Havana Lottery at New Orleans a few days ago, and that he will arrive at home by that boat to day with a pocket full of rocks. This circumstance should deter others from investing in lotteries for some time to come, as it is altogether improbable that a similar prize will be drawn during an ordinary lifetime.

FINE CATTLE.—Those who are fond of the good things of life would have been delighted at seeing a lot of fine cattle that were shipped yesterday by Mr. A. W. Hardin, of Oldham county, to the steamer Autocrat for the New Orleans Christmas market. The average weight of fifty head was 1,830 lbs., and during the month of December the finest lot of cattle ever shipped from this port. Mr. Hardin also shipped 150 sheep that were far superior to those wa usually see.

THE INSURRECTION IN CUMBERLAND COUNTY.—Nat. Gaither, Esq., of Cadiz county, arrived in the city yesterday, direct from Barkville, Cumberland county, the scene of the late reported servile insurrection. We learn from him that the report of the arrest and execution of Harlan, the abolitionist, and the fifteen slaves, is a dly true—save that portion which has reference to the hanging. Harlan and his black confederates are in jail.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY.—By order of Judge Muir, of the Circuit Court, a special grand jury will be empaneled to take cognizance of the case of David Caution, the infamous negro who is charged with the diabolical outrage upon Catherine Swanson, and those connected with him in crime.

☞We are informed that two bodies have been stolen from the Methodist Cemetery, on the Bardstown turnpike, within the past two or three weeks.

THE VERMONT PERSONAL LIBERTY BILL.—The Legislature of Vermont has refused to repeal the personal liberty act of that State. The vote to repeal was 58, (25 Republicans, 33 Democrats) to the vote against repealing was 120, all Republicans).

☞The Baltimore Sun is the only journal in that city which does not oppose the doctrine of secession. The Philadelphia Ledger, owned by the same proprietors, is earnestly engaged in defending the Union against the Disunionists.

DAMAGES FOR DEFAMATION.—A Mrs. Campbell brought suit last week in the Court of Common Pleas of Cumberland county, Pa., against Mr. Garvey for defamation. The jury gave her $4,700 damages.

RESIGNED.—The Rev. J. B. Morse, rector of St. John's church, in Carlisle, Pa., has resigned, and his place has been supplied by the Rev. Francis J. Clare, of St. Louis, Mo.

GREAT DISASTER.

ALL LUNATICS RESCUED BUT ONE.

We regret to learn from an extra of the Hopkinsville Mercury that the Western Lunatic Asylum, the largest and most costly building in Kentucky, took fire on Friday morning at 11 o'clock A. M., and in the course of four hours was totally destroyed, with the exception of the walls. The fire was first seen on the roof in the rear of the west wing, and as a high wind was blowing from the northwest at the time the dry shingles were soon in a flame that defied all efforts at subjection. The rest halls created a draught like the blast of a furnace, and in a short time the immense edifice, which we had thought might stand as an everlasting monument to its builders, was wrapped from tower to foundation in one sheet of livid, crackling, and roaring flames, that swept along with the fury of a tornado.

Dr. Montgomery, the Superintendent, lost everything in his great efforts to save his patients. The assistants suffered in like manner. On reaching the yard some fifty of the patients fled panic stricken to the woods; parties are in the woods searching for them and are fast bringing them in. On repairing to the spot at 3 o'clock, the editor of the Mercury found the road extending some two miles from the Court-house thronged with citizens visiting and returning from the scene of the disaster. The splendid structure was the pride of our people and all were shocked at its swift destruction.

The attendants succeeded in saving the patients, some two hundred and fifty, without injury, except one who was fastened in his cell, near where the fire originated. The attendant, after endangering his own life, had to leave him.

The procession of lunatics marching into town, presented a spectacle of melancholy grotesqueness, as the poor creatures passed on, the men on foot and the females on wagons and hacks, wrapped up in quilts, comforts, and blankets of every hue. Some of them seemed passive and indifferent; some seemed unusually elated, whilst others were in their forms a vague intimation that some heavy misfortune had befallen them. The county and town authorities have made temporary quarters for them in the Court-house and other buildings, which will be made as comfortable as possible. We learn that the patient burned up was Stewart, a carpenter. Most of the walls are without a fissure, and seem as good as ever, but the mistaken economy of the State in not providing a metal roof, has cost her many thousands of dollars. The building cost over $200,000.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS—Tuesday, December 4th. Alfred McFall and A. J. Oldham, drunk and disorderly conduct. Oldham discharged and McFall gave bail in the sum of $100 for his good behavior three months.

Jack McCuen, drunk and carrying concealed a deadly weapon. In default of $300 bail to appear and answer for a misdemeanor and be of good behavior three months, he was sent to the workhouse.

Margaret Swope, stealing $8 50 from Sarah Dempsey. Committed to jail in default of $300 bail to answer an indictment for felony at the January term of the Circuit Court.

Peter Fry, obtaining money under false pretences from F. Mestemacher. Committed to jail in default of $300 bail to answer an inlictment for felony at the January term of the Circuit Court.

Wm. Crawford, assault on L. J. Pope. Own bond in the sum of $50 to answer an inlictment for a misdemeanor.

David Caution, a s'ave, attempt to commit a rape on Catherine Swansen. Committed to jail to answer an indictment for felony at the January term of the Circuit Court. The penalty on conviction is death.

Docket Cases.—The following persons were fined for misdemeanors:

Nicholas Dempsey $10, Samuel Brentlinger $5, John Kinney $10, J. and M. Beardsall one cent each, John Dunlap $100, and Ann Leghorn $20.

AMMUNITION FOR FORT MOULTRIE.—A recent telegram from Charleston says that "ordnance and ammunition have lately been landed at Fort Moultrie," and that "some of the artillery officers say that now Moultrie is almost impregnable." The New York Journal of Commerce says the inference which will naturally be drawn from this despatch—that this fort has been strengthened and filled up with implements and munitions of war, with a view to defending it against the assaults of Secessionists—is not justified by the facts of the case. Some weeks ago four gun-carriages for "dark defence," and eighty-four boxes of cartridges, having twenty rounds apiece, were sent on to the Fort. This was the ordinary routine of supply. For the last year, Capt. Foster, of the Engineers, has been engaged in repairing the Fort, and the gun-carriages are needed to complete the armament. The cartridges are sent to all the forts in the country once a month, on an average, all the year round. They are intended to supply a deficiency in the ammunition caused by full practice or by firing salutes; or to replace those cartridges in which the powder has become "caked" by long standing, and which are removed to the nearest Arsenal of construction to be opened, examined, cleaned, and repacked. Charleston is the nearest Arsenal of construction to Viz, a Panammer hat and A sheuter a n speeches if Seeger Smoaked by thee natifs.

ARREST OF THREAD, THE MAIL-ROBBER.—The Olney (Ill.) correspondent of the Vincennes Sun gives the following account of the arrest of Thread, the mail-robber, in that place a few days ago:

P. M. Cullen, of Olney, notified Gilmore, special agent, of the whereabouts of Thread, the mail robber, whose presence was much desired at Springfield before a dissolution of the Union made the United States Courts of no account. Last night Gilmore, Sheriff Johns, Constable Lynch, and two or three others took a hack for Olney, a few miles north of Albion, to investigate the home of one Peters, the brother-in-law of Thread, where it was reported Thread was concealed.

About midnight the posse arrived, and after securing the axes and other deadly weapons about the premises, proceeded to the locked door, and on Thread's room, pulled him out of bed, and handcuffed him in a moment, amidst the cries of Oh, sister! Peters! Help! Murder!

Mrs. Peters, who is a young, intellectu woman, struck the flour in her right-gown like a she tiger—gave a scream and called "thief"—seized a heavy stick, and struck Gilmore limber and helpless. The dog followed and took Johns by the leg. Peters caught Lynch and downed him—a Frenchman of the company came to the rescue —blow succeeding blow, Lynch, aided by Johns's help, caught in the folds of the heroine's nightgown and saved the head of that "public funeral" ceremony, but shots must be fired, silent forever—a lamp broken over the females head, cooled her ardor—various kicks, cuffs, and buffets seal Peters off for help. Thread would not move in spite of the hack-axe by the hair, legs, and clothes he was thrown in—brought to Olney, and is now on his way to Springfield by railroad.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF TRADE,
Philadelphia, Nov. 29, 1860.

To the Chamber of Commerce, Louisville.

GENTLEMEN: At a meeting of the Board of Trade of Philadelphia, held this day, the following preamble and resolutions, proposed by E. C. Biddle, Esq., were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, a large party of business men of Philadelphia, under the auspices of the Board of Trade, and with a view to enlarged business relations with the great West, recently, at the invitation of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company, made an extensive tour over said road and many of its Western connections, visiting Louisville among other cities; and,

And, whereas, the reception of this party was marked by a welcome so kind and a hospitality so generous as to demand an acknowledgment by this Board of its high appreciation of those courtesies; therefore

Resolved, That the cordial thanks of the Board of Trade of Philadelphia be and are hereby tendered to the Chamber of Commerce and merchants of Louisville for the hearty welcome extended by them to the excursion party of business men from this city, and the generous hospitality with which they were entertained during their stay at Louisville.

Resolved, That this Board hereby invites delegations from Western cities and commercial bodies to visit Philadelphia, and that in affording the business men of the city an opportunity of expressing, by more than mere resolutions of thanks, their appreciation of the courtesies of their Western friends.

Resolved, That a copy of the above preamble and resolutions, signed by the officers of this Board, be transmitted to the Chamber of Commerce of Louisville.

The undersigned have great pleasure in transmitt ng the above preamble and resolutions to the gentlemen of the Chamber of Commerce of Louisville, in accordance with the order of our Board.

With great respect, your obedient servants,
SAM. C. MORTON, Pres't.
LOUIS BOLLET, Secretary.

NOTICES OF THE DAY.

☞Lawyers and law students will remember the sale of Hon. J. O. Harrison's private law and miscellaneous library (slightly damaged) at White's auction room, Fourth street, to-night at 7 o'clock.

UNITED STATES HOTEL SALOON.—The brothers Hamilton, have purchased this noted saloon from the former propietor, and have recently stocked it with the choicest wines, liquors, and other refreshments. As may be well imagined, the popularity of the saloon has greatly increased of late.

CHRISTMAS BALL.—The second annual ball of the Louisville Stove and Hollowware Molders' Union is to be given at Masonic Hall on Christmas night.

Committee of Arrangements.—Will. Horan Robt. Gilchriest, Abram Akers, John McDermott, Jos. Klein, O. J. Curr, John Coyle. de5 d3*

☞Our readers will please remember the large auction sale of goods which takes place this morning at the auction rooms of L. Kahn & Co., 494 Main street, when a large stock of goods will be disposed of. Merchants will do well to attend.

McCarrell makes too much "fuss."

☞If our readers desire to see the small Journal print in cloudy days with comfort and, besides strengthen their eyesight, they have only to obtain Mr. Sincere's services in adapting his glasses to their sight. We advise all our friends, whether with failing or impaired sight, to try Mr. Sincere's skill. His office is under the National Hotel, on Main street.

☞Mr. Charles Whitney, the elocutionist, is in our city, and, if he can secure a hall, will give us one or more of his delightful recreations. With peculiar powers of imitation, he gives impersonations of all our celebrated orators, and he reads poetry with wonderful effect. It is now some years since we had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Whitney, and then he illustrated every phase of oratorical character by copious quotations from celebrated speeches, and life-like assumptions of the manners and peculiarities of the speakers. Should he appear in public here, we are convinced that our citizens will be highly pleased with his impersonations.

NEW YORK STORE, No. 317 FOURTH STREET, BETWEEN MARKET AND JEFFERSON.—We have just received 100 pieces fancy silk, which will be sold less than the cost of importation. Also 25 pieces of rich moire antique, all shades; 10,000 yards of prints, the best brands, at 10 cents per yard. Our entire stock of goods of every kind is marked down to the lowest prices. Our carpets, oil cloths, window shades, &c., are selling at greatly reduced prices. We invite customers to give us a call before making their purchases elsewhere. S. BARKER & CO.,

CATARRH.—A form of Chronic Throat Disease consisting in inflammation, which begins behind and in the nostrils, passes into the palate, and extends up into the nose. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have proved very efficacious in this troublesome complaint. No sufferer from Catarrh should be without them.

☞For all kinds of lumber, dressed and undressed, sash, doors, blinds, mouldings, boxes, &c., call at Alexander, Ellis, & Co.'s planing mill, sash, door, and blind factory and lumber yard, on Fulton street, just above Preston, fronting the river, or at their lumber yard, corner of Walnut and Preston streets, or leave your orders at their warerooms on Main street, nearly opposite the Galt House, Louisville, Ky. jan1 tf

BUSINESS NOTICES.

☞The undoubted excellence of Atwood's Quinine Tonic Bitters is fully established. They have attained a high position with physicians as a remedial agent for dyspepsia, general prostration of the nervous system, loss of appetite, and impaired digestion. dl d2

PASS YOUR UNCURRENT MONEY AT PAR.—Missouri, Tennessee, and notes of the solvent banks of Illinois will be taken at par for all kinds of dry goods this week by J. M. Hopkins, No. 106 Jefferson street, north side, between Fourth and Fifth streets. de1 dtf

☞At Elrod's Gallery you can get any kind of a picture you wish, and pay for it with bills on any solvent bank. Pictures warranted to please and last. d3 d6

TOLU ANODYNE FOR RHEUMATISM.—Rheumatism, although principally confined to inflammation, falls of cure or relief from the very fact that more than half of the cases can be traced to a dyspeptic habit. This causes Rheumatism of the blood or circulating fluid, and the remedies for local Rheumatic pains are generally confined to the muscular or bony parts, but when it passes from one part of the system to the other it takes on Rheumatism of the nerves. Therefore all cases of general Rheumatism are nervous, and will be relieved by the use of Tolu Anodyne, in connection with Dr. Jayne's great Cathartic pill (without mercurials) twice or thrice a week on going to bed, will assist the Anodyne very much. This cause low applies with equally equal force in cases of Partial Paralysis, Gout, and St. Vitus Dance. d3 eod2

A CARD.
UNITED STATES HOTEL, Oct. 2, 1860.

To Mr. Hugh Wilkins:

The cards you have put down for us by you is the only thing of the kind that we have ever seen that we would care to have put under our carpets, as yours are so pleased with it, that we would be very unwilling to have another carpet (old or new) put down without it. The difference between a room where it is used and where it is not is so striking that it must attract the attention of the most unobservant. It is worth more than its cost in the increased softness and pleasantness it gives to the carpet, and we think you do not overrate its economy in stating that it adds one-half to the carpet's wear.

If our recommendation of it will add anything to your sales, we cheerfully give it, feeling we do your customers a much greater kindness than we do you. HALL & HARRIS.

☞The conservatism of Virginia is showing itself nobly in the present crisis. Of that State, the following is the Secession issue in the following bold, eloquent, and unanswerable manner:

"So long as the bones of Washington, Jefferson, Henry, Madison, and their illustrious compatriots who cemented this Union, mingle with her soil, Virginia will be true to her sacred tradition and to their memories. She will never desert the Union, with its hallowed associations, until she shall have exhausted every effort at compromise, and even feel that the blessing of these illustrious men, were they here, could be invoked upon her efforts. She knows full well that nations are not born in a day, that its builders warrant in saying that nor easily reconstructed; and that, least of all, is it possible, when the work of disintegration proceeds from internal dissensions, and not from external violence. The sword, a despot, and a throne, are the appropriate symbols of what follows. It was Virginia, according to the best light of the Old Thirteen, that first originated the Union of 1789, and we finally hope that Virginia will cement the new Union that will date from the passage of the ordinance of secession by a sister State of the country. Would that she had another Washington to preside at its birth! We can descry the day-star of hope in our political firmament. There are still patriots enough in the land to save us from wreck and ruin. The North will concede our rights, and the South see every one restored. Then the Union will be purified. There will be but two great parties in the country, a Union and a Disunion party, however it may be named, and with the former Virginia will ally herself.

THE PALMETTO FLAG IN NEW YORK.—The Herald's matter of fact dissunion sensation is running high. The Palmetto flag is flying, and the Herald is actually flying from the mast-head of vessels in the harbor of New York, as evidence that the secession mania has seized upon the conservators of the peace. The truth is that the Palmetto flag has been flying for the last seven years at the topgallant masthead of two lines of schooners and small ships which have plied in the cotton and rice freighting between Charleston and New York. It has been used, like a multiplicity of other private signals in the harbor, as a distinguishing pennant to indicate that vessels of a particular line are in port, and may be found at a given pier by any one having freight for Charleston. Capt. Marshall's Liverpool line like a black ball on a red ground as the private signal of his line. To the discreet imagination of some people this may be construed into secession, but with regard Britain and consequent blood-bed, though the owners or captain of any of these ships probably never dreamed of attaching any such meaning to the flag.

To the Herald's imagination this flag, which has flaunted to the breeze in our harbor for several years, looks only dissolution of the Union and a breaking up of all commercial intercourse with the south.—N. Y. Times, 1st.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞The use of Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for Dyspepsia, Flatulence, Heaviness of the Stomach, or any other like affection, is second to none in America or abroad. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all noxious matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy so indispensable for the restoration of health. The numerous acknowledgments of its superior excellence and beneficial results, have assured the proprietors that it cannot but prove a great cure to the afflicted, and impart vitality to the thorough system.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS.—FEAR DESTROYS.—The waltz-marked inscription "Holloway, New York and London," which now appears on every leaf of the books of directions enveloping these preparations, is a perfect safeguard against fraud. If the words are visible on holding the paper against the light, the article may be relied on as genuine. The Ointment differs from every other external application in existence, inasmuch as it neutralizes the irritating principle in the fluids and the body, and thus prevents the life of inflammation at its first approach, and in the exterior ensures a perfect cure. The Pills operate specially on the bile and the blood.

BOSTON, Nov. 24, 1859.

Gentlemen: When I first used your Cocoaine, I had been bald seven years. In the month I had tried a dozen different preparations, specially recommended for baldness, (and all claiming to be infallible), without any beneficial effect.

The ladies of the house hold urged me to try your Cocoaine, which I did, to please them, not having, myself, any faith in the power of man to restore my hair. LOUISVILLE JOURNAL

TYPE-SETTING BY MACHINERY.—Mr. Charles W. Bell, of Salem, Mass., who has devoted himself for several years to the work of inventing and perfecting a machine for setting type, addressed a large number of gentlemen—mostly printers—who assembled in Mercantile Hall, in Cincinnati, on Saturday evening last, in explanation of the working of his machine. His lecture, which was very clear, was illustrated by diagrams, which were very clear, was illustrated by diagrams. The following is a synopsis of his remarks taken from the Cincinnati Enquirer:

The types are arranged in vertical columns in a metallic case, having provision for stowing away a large quantity of such letters as a, s, o, e, &c., which are more frequently used. A moveable stick passes under the case, taking from the bottom of the columns the type indicated by touching keys, like those of a piano, marked with the various letters. No spaces are used in composition, but little pieces of steel, called "machine spaces" mark the places for spacing. The "machine spaces" are but a single line at once, and as a lick contains but a single line it is passed into the room as a line is completed. All the spaces are but spacing apparatus to justify the lines, and there are two kinds of spaces used—one kind being of the same thickness as the "machine spaces," and the other kind one-fourth or one-fifth larger. The operation is to put one of the thinner spaces between each word, and repeat the operation until the line will contain no more. The "machine spaces" are now drawn out, and, if the line was previously justified, their place is supplied with spaces of the same thickness, but if the line was not justified, this is done by using some of the "machine spaces" the spaces which are a friction thicker. This completes the justification, and the operator is to put one of the thinner spaces between each word, and repeat the operation until the line will contain no more. The "machine spaces" are now drawn out, and, if the line was previously justified, their place is supplied with spaces of the same thickness, but if the line was not justified, this is done by using some of the "machine spaces" the spaces which are a friction thicker. This completes the justification, and the operator is to put one of the thinner spaces between each word, and repeat the operation until the line will contain no more. The machine type is put on to a galley, the lines separated from each other, and the whole matter taken out and stored in lines ready for new matter. The line, deprived of its spaces, is fed into the stick, and the type are put back into the case by keys answering to those precisely the reverse of that which takes them out, that it is produced by simply turning the shaft in the opposite direction.

The method of the stick in the various columns is produced by a series of toggle joints, which may be united in any combination, and a few toggles produce a large number of motions of the stick, which takes a type wherever it goes; consequently it is the combination of the toggles that determines the type to be taken, and this is controlled by the operator through the keyboard. The toggles constitute one of the chief features of the invention, because they make it possible to have both Roman and Italic in a single case, with all the points, figures, accented letters, &c., and allow the principle of combination to be carried out in the keyboard, so that a few keys will control a large number of characters, and also because the combinations of the toggles are recorded by punching a corresponding combination of holes in a strip of card, by which the type may be distributed without any attention from the operator, or he need at any future time and in any kind or size of type. Another method of distributing by means of a similar combination of additional holes in the side of the type was alluded to as preferable in some cases, and also a modification of distributing by the keyboard with the copy as a guide, which might be useful in an emergency.

One advantage arising from the use of machinery in setting type cannot be denied, namely always kept in lines of letters or lines of language. Another is, that every motion of the operator sets a type, while by the ordinary method the hands of the compositor must go for the type and bring it back, and must take it up and put it down. The work will be done more accurately, requiring less time for proof reading, and more than double the type will not be battered, as at present, by throwing them into the boxes in the ordinary method of distribution. After the machine has set the matters may be put into the case, and any quantity of each character.

By a simple method of combination, a small number of keys will enable the operator to control a large number of characters, and the type may be used just as they come from the foundry. The lines are spaced, justified, and the type is ordered, ready for use, and a record is made of the work done, by which it can be distributed or reset at any future time, and the same piece of work of type. Two or more copies of the same job may be set at once and in different kinds of type if desired, so that a machine might be placed in a telegraph office, and as the operator receives the message by sound, he may set it up in type for the various papers, so that in five minutes from the lit no a message is received it is being printed on three or four different presses. The key board of a printing telegraph is precisely like that of a type-setting machine, and on the former a good operator will strike 15,000 keys per hour, which is five times as fast as a good compositor will set up by hand, and the speed was supported by superficial questionings, which he spoke of as very successfully.

Her Majesty's ship Building arrived unexpectedly in Dublin on Saturday last, having been under the command of Capt. Sir Leopold McClintock, having encountered very severe weather on her return from the Arctic regions and North America. We understand that the important work entrusted by the government to the charge of our distinguished fellow-countryman has been crowned with the most entire satisfaction; and we may therefore hope that when his report of the several soundings between this country and America, via the Arctic coast, has been laid before the public, the long looked-for telegraph, by means of which the Old and the New World will be united, will be a work of mere mechanical routine. Sir Leopold McClintock will probably pass through Dublin on his way to London.

Fanny Elsler is now at Berlin, at the bedside of a sick sister, wife of the son of Prince Adalbert, of Prussia. The latter was married to Baron be Barnim, eldest son of the Prince Adalbert, to Mlle. Therese Elssler, sister of the famous dancer, and something of a rival to herself. She created a great sensation at the time; but the union has been a happy one, and the relatives long ago became reconciled to the plebeian intruder. From this union a child was born, a boy, who whose bad health induced his parents to send him, some months ago, to Egypt, to try the effect of the climate on his lungs. He died there, and Fanny received no benefit, and has just died in Nubia. The news threw the mother on her bed, and her sister Fanny hastened to her side to console her in the cruel blow.

A GREAT RAILROAD PROJECT.—The Central Railroad Company have projected an enterprise and in consonance with the scale upon which the operations of that vast concern are conducted. The project is, to unite the Mississippi and Ohio way for their trains through the Western part of the city, beginning in Centre square and continuing in a direct line with the canal, and thence wood to near the Western depot, at Brown and Maple streets.

To accomplish this work will require a great amount of labor and large expenditure, but the company expect of course, to realize advantages equal to the cost. Engineers have for sometime been engaged in making the necessary surveys, plans and estimates, and their reports have decided the company to undertake the work.

Besides the benefits arising from the tunnel, the company will be obliged to purchase property belonging to individuals, and to pay damages, probably, to others whose property may be injured by the work.—Rochester Express.

BALTIMORE COFFEE CIRCULAR.

We heard this morning of sales of 200 bags good Rio coffee at 11½c, and of 7 0 bags Jamaica at 11½c, and for account of the underwriters, but the terms were not private. We publish below the usual weekly report of Messrs. White & Elder, Coffee brokers, to which we refer for particulars:

Stock of Rio Coffee, Nov. 24th, 1860.....12,400 bags.
Received since per bark Mondamin.....5,000 "
do. do. New Light.....2,000 "
17,400 "
Taken for consumption.....2,200 "
Stock of Rio this day.....20,200 "

Sales.—200 bags Rio, ex Wheatland, in lot, at 14 5-8; 500 bags Rio, ex do., in lots, at 14¾ to 14¾ cts.; 60 bags Rio, in lots from store, at 14¾ to 15 cts.

Remarks.—With no accumulating stock and a seasonable demand for consumption, the market wears a dull aspect. The only transaction of a speculative character was the sale of 500 bags Rio, ex Wheatland, on private terms. The importers are firm in their views, many of them declining to sell at less than 15 cts. per lb. net cash per 30 days. We quote prime Rio at 14¾ to 15 cts.; good at 14¼ cts.; ordinary to fair at 13½ cts.; Laguayra 14 to 15 cts.; Java 16½ to 17½ cts.

Repaving and Recurbing of Sidewalks.

The owners of lots and parts of lots designated below are hereby informed that ordinances have been passed by the General Council, approved and published, requiring the repairing and recurbing of the sidewalks in front of their respective lots, and if they fail to have the same properly done within thirty days from the date hereof, the work will be done under a contract at the expense of said lot owners, as provided for in the 34 section of the 7th article of the City Charter.

All drains from houses or lots to be conveyed under the sidewalks in iron pipes, in accordance with ordinance regulating the same.

Said work, when executed, to be received by the City Engineer, and if not done in every respect in accordance with "specifications" regulating sidewalk paving, to be reported to the expense of the property owners:

Know Thyself.

DR. J. H. MCCANN is enabled to detect to a certainty the true condition and locality of disease by a simple and scientific method, without asking the patient any questions. Some prefer to do this, yet a few questions or some leading questions in order to obtain a clue to the disease. We do nothing at first sight, and have never failed to give satisfaction. Consultations and examinations

FREE OF CHARGE.

DISEASES OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS treated by a new system of Medical Inhalation, and remedies administered. We offer you no remedies, outside of the profession, but such as are well known to the faculty. Dr. McCann, out to visit the residence, and a fee guaranteed in all cases. Dr. McCann is the only physician in the United States, that has ever discovered a remedy for Consumption, Scrofula, Chronic Ulcers, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Catarrh, Piles, Fistula, Goitre, Fits, Diseases of Eyes and Ear, Seminal Weakness, Skin Diseases, Rupture, Diarrhœa, Asthma, Deafness, all chronic diseases. If you need a "cure all" doctor, and will undertake no case without a fair prospect of recovery,

CALL ON DR. MCCANN.

FEMALE DISEASES.

Females troubled with Suppressions, Irregularities, Leucorrhœa or Whites, Falling of the Womb, Polypus of the Uterus, Tumors of any kind, Barrenness, all Diseases of the Womb, Ovarian Disease, Menstruation, Pregnancy, Debility, &c., will be speedily cured without the use of poisonous medicines. Dr. McCann has had a large experience of any kind. Have no delicacy in calling, no difference what your troubles may be. I do not expect you to place yourself under my treatment unless you prefer it.

All communications strictly confidential. The afflicted are especially invited to call and consult Dr. McCann. Office on First street, between Market and Jefferson, Louisville, Ky. All letters addressed to me must have enclosed a stamp, giving symptoms and nature of disease, will receive prompt attention. Medicines sent to all parts of the United States. Office hours from 8 A. JAPANESE SOAP!

JOHN F. GUNKEL & CO.'S

DETERSIVE AND EMASIVE

SOAP,

Louisville, Ky.

WE offer this Soap to the public with the full assurance that, if the directions given are carried out, it will save labor and money to the user. All we ask is a fair trial; then let it stand upon its own merits. Among other advantages of this over other Washing Soaps, the following may be mentioned:

1. This Soap is warranted not to injure the fabric.
2. For troublesome Stains, it will be found superior to a washing by using this Soap in preference to any other.
3. The clothes need but little rubbing, and, in most cases, no boiling.
4. For washing hands it is equally superior to any common Soap, as it does not chap, but has a tendency to soften the skin.
5. It cannot be surpassed for removing Ink, Tar, and Grease Spots on Carpets, Floors, Clothing, &c.
7. The superiority of this Soap consists in its not containing any excess of alkali, and the materials used rendering it more mild than any other known Washing Soap.
7. It is undoubtedly the best Family Soap extant, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction, or the money will be cheerfully refunded.

☞ Any Soap sent to the country through the postoffice, or given our wagons, will meet with prompt attention. [d1 d1tf] JOHN F. GUNKEL & CO.
